

EVIL EAR PRESENTS MOLOSSER

VIDEO & SINGLE RELEASE - MOLOSSER: DIVE IN - June 27th 2021

LET'S PUT SOME ARCANA INTO AMERICANA!

On their new single/video, Dive In, Swedish Molosser tune their acoustic guitars even lower than usual (just two notes up from an electric bass, actually) and create a unique, dark soundscape. You might call it doom folk, you might call it Gothic blues – we just call it Molosser, since this duo put their own stamp on everything they do. On Dive In their downtuned acoustic guitars play brooding riffs and crooked licks around stealthy drums, crowned by singer Tess' haunting, intimate vocals. The song is accompanied by an official music video that is just as dark, just as beautiful as the music. So come follow Molosser on this trip and put “arcana” back into Americana – after all, all you got left if you don't is a “me” and an “I”.

The single comes from Molosser's debut album, Appear, that was released in May and has received plenty of accolades and airplay. Mango Wave puts it like this:

Molosser's debut album is as refreshing as a nocturnal swim in a lake after a long day in the sun, as gloomy as a thick rain cloud darkening the sky at dusk, and as harmonic as nature herself.

Upcoming releases: On July 5th, we release the video and single for Ray of Moonlight, another track from the album. This is a more upbeat track than Dive In (although that doesn't say much), more in a “normal” Americana/acoustic format, but still with Molosser's distinct stamp on it. You can take a sneak peek on the video here! During the summer you can also expect more videos in the barebones/live series, where Molosser play their music straight into the mic with just the two guitars and vocals. Also, a new album is brewing.
